OLUME LXV., NUMBER 36. REDWOOD CITY, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1925. ESTABLISHED 1859

ONEER RESIDENT ELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

The many relatives of Mrs. Mary Beebo of Halfmoon Bay gathered the home of her son and daugh- -inlaw. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Beebe Tunitas Glen recently to celebrate 79th birthday of the aged lady. s. Beebe is a pioneer of this coun- and a member of one of the earl- t and most prominent families of s section.

In 1853 Bill Durham, then a young n, crossed the plains to Califor- behind a slow team of oxen. re he found conditions so much asanter than in his eastern home t in 1858 he returned across the ins to Cincinatti, Ohio, where he rsuaded his mother, brother, sis- aunt and uncle to come to Cali- nia with him. The party left Cin- atti on the 1th of April of 1859. ey had all their goods packed in a ge prairy schooner and behind a m of oxen set forth upon the long rney to the new state in the west. the 11th of May they had reached venworth, Kansas, a distance of ptember of that year the party ar- ed at Tunitas Glenn, having been the road five and a half months. Tom and Bill Durham had a small bin built on the land which later longed to Joe Perry and H. C. chsen, and where their cabins are ated. Later in the sixties the other, Tom, Bill and Ott Durham d T. H. Beebe took up a piece of vernment land of 1500 acres lo- ted between the two creeks and tending from the small box above rry's place to the mail box below e white bridge across Tunitas eek.

A large portion of this holding was ld later on to C. D. Hayward, fath- of the late Clarence Hayward and s. Dave Moore of this city, for a ingle mill and another part to the mpson brothers for a saw mill. ter on when the trees had all been t of this part of the land, the mill s burned and the land sold to La- n Langley. Following Langley's ath the land was sold to J. B. rry and H. C. Tuchsen by his dow. A large piece of the lat- r's land was recently sold to Red- od Parlor N. S. G. W., and it is on this land that they have now ected their club house.

Following the death of their moth- , Bill Durham, father of Fred and arles Durham, and Bill's brother, t Durham, who was the father of orge, Frank and May Durham, the ter of whom is now Mrs. N. C. mmings of this city, occupied the d homestead. On Tom's ranch hich was located farther down the nitas creek, the first oil discovered this county, was found.

In 1862 Bill Burham, who was af- ectionately known as Uncle Billy by l who knew him, moved to Redwood ity. Here he put up the first tin hop estabished in this section of e county. This business was later ken over by the late Charles Hol- rook, and the late Charles Mer- ll, founders of the firm of Hol- rook, Merrill and Stetson, now one the best known hardware firms in e west. These partners added oves and hardware to their tin ork and erected a larger building front of Durham's shop. This was early opposite the pioneer grocery tore of the town, then run by J. . Diller and occupied a site now ccupied by the residence of Fred lennan. It was here that L. P. Behrens, who later founded the First National Bank of Redwood City, learned the trade of a tinsmith, working for Holbrook and Merrill. Later in the sixties Uncle Billy Durham was elected justice of the peace of this district. He held this position for several years, until his death which was preceeded by an attack of paralysis.

Of the original family only the sister, Mrs. Beebe, is alive to recall the tales of early days on the great plains in an ox team. She has two children, six grand children and 10 great grand children to cheer her in her old age, and it is the hope of her many friends that she may be spared for many more happy birthdays among the scenes which she has seen change so in the past six decades. The rest of the family have many years ago passed to the great beyond, and their ashes rest in the family plot at Union cemetery.

Mrs. Beebe arrived here just when the Gazette was started. She prides herself on having read this paper during the whole 66 years of its existence, and is still a subscriber.

Rare Glasses In Collection Here

Although it is only about 20 years that civilization has been awakened to the fact of the importance of vision and preserving of the same, we find in research that the spectacle dates back many centuries.

Pliny, the Roman historian, noted that Nero was short sighted and used concave emeralds to better view the gladiatrial combats. Seneca, the Roman publicist of the first century, noted the enlargement of letters when seen through a glass globe filled with water.

Alexander de Spina, a Florentine monk, invented spectacles in 1281, and so every future century brought an improvement in eye glasses. By the 15th century spectacles became a commrecial commodity.

In the show window of Dr. Penez, Sequoia building, is quite a unique display of old time glasses, which he has collected from odd shops in the east. He has the original bifocal type invented and worn by Benjamin Franklin. The glasses really has four separate lenses.

There are also two pairs of octogonal glass spectacles, and their lense are quite small.

In some odd ones worn during the 17th century, the temple pieces fold up and are very long. In fact there are quite a number of interesting specimens. No wonder that the wearing of necessary eye glasses was not popular. But today, at this age of rapid progress, research, study and speed, our eyes do need a special care to preserve the "eyes of youth" as much as possible and through modern inventions in optical machinery have been able not only to grind spherical lenses but ones of cylinderical combinations, a correction of great importance to those whose eyes are astigmatic.

Through chemical and electrical facilities optical glass has been manufactured for light filtering property—to cut out ultra violet and other harmful rays, the same as a lead transparent glass will not admit the powerful X-ray that generally penetrates most solids.

YOUNG BABY DIES IN COLLINS HOME

Funeral services were held this week from Mt. Carmel Catholic church for Reon Teresa Collins, 8-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil R. Collins of this city. The baby passed away at their home on Fulton street on Monday. The funeral was held on Wednesday. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery.

MEN'S CLUB TO HEAR LECTURE ON ARGONNE

An illustrated lecture on the fighting in the Argonne sector during the late war will be given before the Methodist Men's Club at their next regular meeting by Rev. R. B. Cherington of Palo Alto. Rev. Cherington was formerly a chaplain in the army and served in France during the great war.

Although willing to serve in the war, Rev. Cherington is one of the leading advocates of peace in this section, and his talk is expected to have a direct bearing on the extermination of war. The club meets next Tuesday evening in the Methodist church.

MAN'S BODY FOUND IN HALFMOON BAY

Discovered by friends dead in his home near Halfmoon Bay with a large cut above his eye, Clarence Maynard, 60, well-known coastside resident is thought to have been the victim of foul play. The man was found by Joe Francis, nephew of Supervisor Francis of that township, who called at the room of the dead man to call him for work.

The wound was said by those who rushed to the scene of the supposed murder to have been sufficient to have caused instant death, and little credence is expressed in the supposition that the man had fallen against some object which caused the wound and had then gone to bed.

Maynard had been a resident of the coastside for many years. He had acted as a clerk in a store on the coastside during the most of his residence there.

During the time that R. H. Chatham was sheriff of the county, Maynard was jailor here, and made many friends in Redwood City. His mother was a member of the well-known Rockerfeller family of which J. D. Rockerfeller is, perhaps, the best known.

SEARCH FOR FIGHT ENDS SADLY FOR COP

The desire to take an active part in a fistic encounter resulted woefully for Milton Koldenstrodt, San Francisco policeman, this week. Koldenstrodt arrived in San Mateo last week with enough mountain dew in his system to wish for a fight. The first likely-looking victim was Billie Burke, son of Chief of Police Burke of San Mateo. Kolenstrod- walked up to young Burke and hit him in the face. This started the fight which Burke ended with a left hand swipe at Koldenstrodt which knocked him out. He then dragged the bellicose policeman to the police station and had him booked for the night, and later he paid a fine in the court of Justice of the Peace George Kertell.

Troubles were not over for the "fighting copper," however, for upon his arrival in his "own home town," he found that his job on the police force had become vacant. It's surprising how many unexpected effects can result from a little friendly affair like that.

DANCE HALL GANG IN JUSTICE COURT

A number of devotees of the light fantastic at the T. N. T. hall at Menlo Park forgot last Saturday night that the war has been over for a number of years, and opened hostilities with a fusillade which required the efforts of a posse from the sheriff's office to repell. The battle royal, which was carried on with rocks brougt into the dance hall in the pockets of a number of the nabitues of the place, came as the result of a former fight on Thanksgiving eve, when some youths from the north end of the county were put off the floor for the disorderly manner in which they were acting.

When news of the ejection of their townsmen was told in South San Francisco, about fifty young men of that city came to the Menlo Park hall. Two entered with tickets which were given to the man who was stationed at the door. When the third party entered he had no ticket. "Where is your ticket?" asked the door keeper. "Here is my ticket," answered the young man from the north, planting a solid blow upon the custodian of the door which laid him unconscious on the floor. Then there was a rush and the hall was filled with a band bent on a fight. The orchestra was scattered and the interior of the hall badly damaged. Rocks flew in all directions and a general meleе insued.

A riot call was sent in to the office of Sheriff McGovern, and he, with Deputy Sheriff Callaghan, Traffic Officer Elgin Kreiss and Constable Frank Roach, rushed to the scene of the riot. As the officers approached one of the ruffians threw a stone which struck Officer Kreiss on the head. At this he drew his gun and shot several shots in the air. The gang from the north, did not care to fight against fire arms and a mad flight ensued.

Several of the gang were captured at the time and the officers headed north in pursuit of the others. As a result of the attack, twenty young men of South San Francisco were arrested and booked at the jail. The next day George Earle, proprietor of the resort at Menlo Park, swore out warrants for eight more who were also arrested. Those captured during the night of the flight were Roy Quinlan, Jack Bonalozi, Eldon Dunn, Jack Palmer, Ivan Coppens, Clarence Thomas, R. J. Manville, B. A. Rahsaelli, George Molinair, Evan Bertollozzi, Ernest Nebolini, Ernest Mibeti, Fred Cinquini, Geno Fabini, Manuel Costa, Wililam Roger, James Lucio, F. Murray, Jr., Carl Nelti and Elton McGraw.

Those taken later were Sam Costa, John Gomez, George Loaker, Bud Ringue, John Lingonello, I. Lingonello, H. Merzie, J. Murray.

Quinlan, Bonalozi and Dunn were charged with disturbing the peace and with battery, and their bail was fixed [illegible], the remainder of the gang were released on $50 bail, being charged with disturbing the peace only.

The members of the gang were given a preliminary hearing in the court of Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin on Wednesday at 10 o'clock. Several of the number asked for a continuance of the proceedings and the remainder plead not guilty and asked for a court trial. The entire matter was set over by the court until Monday morning, when all will be required to enter a plea.

Woodside Notes

We have become quite accustomed to Mrs. Roth winning ribbons and prizes with her horses at the horse shows throughout the country but a new honor has come to us in the Ayrshire cattle of the Gilman ranch. Eight cows from this farm visited the stock show at Oakland recently and brought back eleven ribbons and a gold medal for the grand champion Aryshire at the show. Aryshires are rapidly coming into prominence among the dairy herds of the country. They have had to contend with a prejudice on account of the fact that the cream from Aryshire milk is not yellow as is that from Jersey and most other dairy cows. And we like cream yellow as we like the yellow color in the skin and egs of the fowls we eat. In fact some of us have believed that because the cream was white or nearly so, it must be lacking in butter-fat. Scientific analysis shows that such is not the case; that it is not the amount of butter-fat, but the size of the globules of the butter-fat that determines the color of the cream. The fat globules in Ayrshire milk are unusually small and for that reason are more easily attacked by the digestive juices of the stoamch, making it particularly adated to the needs of tuberculous patients, to many children who find ordinary milk hard to digest and to hospital patients whose systems are weakened as the result of operattions. In equipping his hospital at Detroit, Henry Ford has extensive investigations made as to the kind of cows best fitted for a hospital herd and ended by buying one hundred pure bred Ayrshires.

Mrs. O. C. Smith has bought a new Star Coupe with which she says she is well pleased. But for the rest of us it is like breaking with a tradition or losing a good friend. Her old car had become an institution in Woodside which we could recognize at a distance and for which we had come to have a most friendly feeling.

The footall game between the Woodside and Portola schools ended in a victory for the former by a score of 48 to 6. The next interschool contest scheduled is a baseball game between the girls of the two schools.

Mrs. Hanse Heiser suffered a painful injury last week when a box upon which she was standing overturned, throwing her to the floor where her head was so badly cut that several stitches were required to close the wound.

Dr. Alanson Weeks of San Francisco entertained a number of weekend guests at his new home here.

The new Gallagher home was opened Tuesday, the furniture arriving from San Francisco by vans in the hardest fain storm of the season. Mr. Galagher is vice-president of the Shell Oil Co.

E. H. Gillis, who has been occupying Dr. Ross' house in 'Little Forest,' has returned to San Francisco. Dr. Ross plans extensive alterations in the house before next summer.

Samuel P. Pond and family spent the holidays and the week end at their place at Woodside.

Frank Nash's splendid saddle horse disappeared on Thesday and it was feared, at first, that he had been stolen. But he was found two days later in a neighboring field, with a bad wire cut on his leg, which necessitated calling a veterinary.

George Shine demonstrated how well he has preserved his youth and his skill by walking from here to San Gregorio and then getting the limit of quail and rabbits on the opening day of the season.

He underwent a serious operation during the week and has not rallied as he was expected to by the attending physicians. The council meeting was held the following day in San Mateo and was attended by representatives of schools in all parts of the county.

Next week will be the last week of school until after the holidays. The annual teachers intsitute, formerly held in October, will be held this year in conjunction with the State Teachers' Association in Oakland on Dec. 15, 16, and 17. The teachers of this county will, however, hold a one-day institute in the Burlingame high school on Monday, December 4. At the conclusion of the institute, the regular two-weeks Christmas holiday will begin. Teachers of the county are pleased with this arrangement as it does away with the break which was formerly made in the work by having the institute in October.

Children of the local elementary school are busy selling Christmas seals. Money received from the sale of these seals is used for the maintainance of the San Mateo county preventorium where children are sent who appear to have any tubercular propensities. t is probable that the children in the local schools will dispose of more than one hundred dollars worth of the seals.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Darrow of Pomona, California, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Osborne at 1042 Broadway last week. Walter Arends is home for the holidays with his parents in Wellesley Park, after several month's cruise on a Pacific liner.

RAISED FIRST FLAG IN SAN MATEO COUNTY

Lucas Greer greeted friends in town on Thursday. Time was when Mr. Greer came to Redwood City, he would be hailed on all sides, as Lucas, everyone knew him, but there has been such an influx of people into the community within the last few years that few recognize the oldtimers whose family connections are indelibly stamped on the history of San Mateo county. Mr. Greer is the oldest native son on the peninsula and among the oldest natives of the State. He was born in Woodside in 1853, before the county was organized from the San Francisco territory. As a youngster of five, he unfurled Old Glory to the breezes for the first time in the County at Woodside. That was a gala occasion. Men came from the hills, the valleys, the mills and the farms to help make the occasion memorable. With elaborate ceremony, the beautiful flag, made by the women of Woodside, was thrown to the breezes, young Greer manning the halyards, hoisted the beautiful emblem of Freedom to the top of the mammoth pole provided by the men from the mills. As Old Glory waved from the top mast, a shout of joy went up from the hundreds of people present, many of whom a few years later followed the flag on the battlefields of the Civil war. Mr. Greer always remembers the occasion, and promises some day to write in detail this memorable event.

SUES ON NOTE

Asking judment for $4,000 and interest, a suit against Jesse C. Harraman et al. was filed in the Superior court Tuesday by the Bank of Burlingame through Attorneys Ross & Ross of this city. It is alleged that a note executed on Dec. 20, 1920, by the defendants remains unpaid.

MAN ARRESTED HERE INDICTED BY JURY

Simon Bube, arrested here some time ago for his alleged conspiracy in the Moss Landing hi-jacking fight, was indicted this week by a federal grand jury. Bube is now on trial in the Superior court of Monterey county at Salinas, for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Rader of that county. The deputy sheriff was shot in a fight with hi-jackers who were landing booze at Moss Landing. Bube is said to have been the one operating the machine gun used in shooting the officers.

The arrest of Bube here a few weeks ago attracted state-wide attention owing to the desperate character ascribed to Bube and also by the clever manner in which his arrest was accomplished by Chief of Police Collins, Officers McAuliffe and woods and Building Inspector Con Drathman.

GEORGE DAVIS NAMED TO SUCCEED LAWRENCE

The appointment of George Davis, a former resident of this city, to the position of superintendent of the Spring Valley Water Company, was the occasion for gratification on the part of his many friends here. Davis has been with the Spring Valley for the past 13 years and for five years of that time he has been assistant to the late W. B. Lawrence, whose death recently left the position of superintendent open.

During his time as assistant superinfendent, George Davis has obtained a thorough knowledge of the properties of the company, and is probably more familiar with the company's vast plant than any other person. In recognition of this fact and of the able service he has rendered in the past, he was unanimously chosen as superintendent by the directors of the water company.

SEQUOIA GIRLS ENTERTAIN THEIR MOTHERS AT TEA

The mothers of girls of the Sequoia Union High School were guests of their daughters at an afternoon tea at the high school last Tuesday. A little program had been prepared for the occasion and was greatly enjoyed by the guests. This included songs by Carol Carrington and Desiree Heydenfeldt, a dance by Frances Gunther and Victoria Converse, a violin solo by Marion Arnold and several orchestral numbers by the high school orchestra.

The girls were assisted in their arrangements by several of the lady teachers of the school.

BITS O' BLARNEY IS BIG SUCCESS

"Bits O' Blarney," the latest Myers & Carrington musical hit, was given its initial public showing last night in the auditorium of the high school before a packed and enthusiastic audience. The operetta was written and composed by O. M. Carrington, musical instructor in the high school, and author of a number of musical successes, which have gained for him more than nationwide prominence. This, his latest production, bids fair to out-shine all his former efforts if the applause of the audience last evening can be taken as a criterian.

"Bits O' Blarney," the name would indicate, is Irish and Professor Carrington, has shown a great ability at counterparting the lilting Irish melodies in this piece, as he did at creating songs for his "Love Pirates of Hawaii," or striking the Dutch tone in his music for his "Windmills of Holland," his first and one of his outstanding productions.

The cast for this production was one of much talent. Each part was well chosen and well carried, and a delightful touch was added to the whole affair by the catchy numbers of the chorouses. The cast was as follows:

Peggy, much admired Irish girl	Florence Rue
Patrick, in love with Peggy	Jack Brownell
Robert, thinks he is in love with Peggy	Claire Griffin
Mary, the girl Robert really loves	Audine Martin
Mike O'Noole, caretaker, who plays the part of Cupid	Robert Poole
Agnes	Artha Gordno
Leaders of the Chorus:
Rosie	Phyllis Kroeck

Chorus of Irish Girls—Dorothy Willard, Amelia Frahm, Doris Blomquist, Maxine Armstrong, Ora Blomquist, Vera Clements, Lillian Phinney, Marion Brandon, Bess Leggett, Ardienne Morris, Phyllis Burnett, Valda Stebenne, Dorothy Rice, La Vern Bigcraft, Martha Bidwell, Grace Yancey, Margaret Downs, Gertrude Hadley, Grace Baird, Katherine Neillson, Helen Cofiori, Jean Dillard, Meryle-Jean Martin, Carol Carrington, Rosebud Holsher, Jane Ingram, Peggy Scott, Nita Feliz, Norma McArthur, Ruth Wickstrom, Margaret Shearer, Kathleen Gish, Mary Izmirian, Beatrice Binkley, Leota Carl, Carol Yearian, Linora McDonald, Vera McDonald.

Chorus of Irish boys—Harry Gibson, George Gilcrest, Norbert Lambert, Norman Hollingsworth, Elvey Combs, Wesley Haydack, James Garino, George Sepulveda, Russel Smith George Kirkbride, Floyd Harper, Byron Ballon, Howard Shearer, Walter Baker, Laurence Egenberg, Paul Furbush, Henry Gilroy.

The players were coached personally by Professor Carrington. The play was given a pre-view on Thursday in the auditorium for the benefit of the students of the grammar school.

A special dance was given by Audine Martin, Merle-Jean Martin, Jane Ingram, Peggy Scott, Artha Gordon and Oro Blomquist. The accompainment for this was supplied by Marion Arnold and Muriel Maloney on the violin, Professor Heineman with the flute and Professor Carrington at the piano.

JOHN PRENDERGAST TO RETURN TO AULD SOD

On Monday John Prendergast, a resident of this community for forty years, departs for his boyhood home in Ireland, the land of Saints and Scholars, to spend his few remaining years amid the scenes of his youth. As a youngster he left his boyhood home to seek fame and fortune in the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave. Now after a pilgrimage of over a half century, in a foreign land, he wanders back to the little Green Isle to revive memories of other days and when life is no more to sleep the sleep that knows no waking beside his ancestors in the land he loves so well. Yesterday, with tears trickling down his rugged cheek, he bid farewell to his many friends in Redwood City and to the country of his adoption for which he holds a soft spot in his heart and which he admires and loves He has accumulated a small fortune, enough to keep him in comfort for the rest of his days. He will live [illegible] brother in the old country and there to pass to the other side when his time comes to answer the call. He will trudge his weary way back to the old homestead at Knockeen, Grague, County Kilkinney, his birthplace. His brother is advancing in years and will soon pass away at which time John Prendergast, who according to the Irish laws, has the right of succession and will assume charge of the 65-acre farm, well improved and modern in every way. His memory will often revert to Redwood City, the scene of his activities and younger years.

County Districting Now In Courts

The matter of the redistricting of San Mateo county so as to give a more equitable division of representation on the board of supervisors, which was sought by a petition presented to the board by Barlow Furgeson of Burlingame some time ago, has been taken into the courts by Frederick Peterson, president of the Burlingame Chamber of Commerce, due to the failure of the board to take the desired action.

When the petition was presented, it met with great opposition from some of the supervisors whose districts would be abolished in the new plan. The matter was postponed from time to time for several months, and finally the board appointed a committee consisting of one man from each township to consider the matter. This committee after considering the situation for several weeks reported against redistricting the county at this time, and recommended the study of the county manager form of government for some future time.

The report of the committee did not satisfy the people in tho more populous townships, and by those who sought a more even division of power on the board, was said to be merely a method of the supervisors for sidestepping the issue.

In the petition which was filed this week in the state court by Peterson through his attorney, Barlow Furgeson, it is recited that the present division is unfair and unequal. The number of voters in the Second Supervisorial district is 7646, it is claimed, while the number in the Fifth district is only 379. In other words the votes of the 7646 voters in the Second district count for only as much on the board of supervisors as the votes of the 379 votes of the other district. It is petitioned by Peterson that the court order the board of supervisors of this county to redistrict the county as nearly as possible, according to population.

POLICE OVERHAULS WELL-ARMED BAND

Officer Slyvester Douglass of the municipal police force overhauled three desperate looking men driving northward on the highway near the Finger bridge during the dark hours just preceding the dawn last Thursday morning. The blowing of the police siren brought the Dodge car which the trio were using to a standstill, and although all were heavily armed with modern shotguns and fifty rounds of ammunition, no reisstance was offered. While a complaint has not as yet been placed against the occupants of the car, the residents of the Highlands and Wellesley park can well give a sigh of relief, as there is no telling what might have happened had the officer not interrupted the men in their work. The three claimed residence in Redwood City and gave their names as Rudy and Algert Uhl of 823 Arguello street and Claude Fox of 642 Highway. They were bound for the summit of the Belmont foothills to enjoy a daylight duck shoot before going to their respective places of employment.

DEATH OF JULIA MURPHY

Julia Murphy, a pioneer of Mayfield, died yesterday at the home of her son-in-law, William Fischer. She was the widow of the late Daniel Murphy, a pioneer of the sixties. Murphy owned a ranch adjoining the Stanford University and considerable litigation arose over the boundary line between the University grounds and the Murphy ranch. The litigation lasted for years but Murphy finally won. He was represented by D. M. Delmas, then in the height of his career as an attorney. The ranch went to the widow upon his death. Murphy was a well-known character in the early days of Mayfield, and was associated in many big deals of those times. Mrs. Murphy is survived by one son and two grandchildren.

WHAT'S IN A NAME; SECTION TO DECIDE TONIGHT

The main discussion of tonight's meeting is as to the name these places will use in the future. In other words, they are to decide upon a name for the entire community. Ravenswood seems to be in the lead, as it is the ancient name of the locality. In 1852 Ravenswood was laid out into lots and blocks and several were sold but few buildings were erected. It is claimed that Ravenswood was the first plotted town in the county. If this name prevails, Runnymede will be dropped. East Palo Alto and North Palo Alto will also be eliminated and the entire community lying between the Middlefield road and the Bay, the San Francisquito crek and Ringwod road will hereafter be known and called "Ravenswood," the romantic name of that district established in 1852.

KIWANIS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Officers to serve during the coming year were elected at the regular weekly meeting of the Redwood City Kiwanis Club last Wednesday Frank K. Towne, manager of the First National Bank, was elected president to succeed J. D. Hedge, who has had a most creditable year in that position. Asa Hull of Hull Bros. Hardware Co., was elected vice-president, succeeding Dr. John N. Blood.

The position of treasurer will be filled this year as it was last year by Amerigo Rossi of the Bank of Italy. Harry Groom, local contractor, was elected to the important position of district trustee to succeed Rev. Father C. E. Kennedy.

All officers with the exception of the directors were elected without and contest. The seven elected for directors were as follows: Frank Allen, Henry Witte, Z. T. Thorning, Ben Zimmerman, Phil Brand and A. E. Monteith. When the votes were counted it was found that Monteith and Carl Beeger had tied for seventh place. Beeger declined in favor of Monteith.

Following the meeting of the club, the new board of directors met and elected B. E. Myers of the Sequoia high school commercial department, as secretary to succeed Clarance Argo, who has held that position for two years. Sam Winkleblecn was re-elected sargeant-at-arms by the new board.

The club has had a very successful year under the presidency of James D. Hedge, and is becoming more and more a valuable assett to Redwood City. A large portion of the past success may be ascribed to the active spport given the president by Father Kennedy, as district trustee and by A. C. Argo as secretary. The local club has sponsored two neighboring clubs, one in Palo Alto and one in San Mateo and Burlingame during the past year, and has seen them develop into valuable civic organizations, and has also taken an active part in the improvement of Redwood City.

AGED WOMAN IS BURIED THURSDAY

Funeral services were held Thursday for Mrs. Susanna Buhne, who passed away suddenly Monday at her home at 1023 Clinton street as the result of stomach disorder. The services were held at the parlors of Layng & Tinney and were conducted by Reverend A. R. Kirtz. Interment took place at Union cemetery.

The deceased was the widow of August Buhne, who was killed here about ten years ago by a train. She had been a resident of Redwood City for the past 35 years and was 75 years of age.

Mrs. Bhhne is survived by one son, Henry Buhne of Corona, California, who was in town this week to attend his mother's funeral.

NOT SO WISE

IT seems to be a merciful provision of Providence that every age considers itself the epitome of all past progress and the ne plus ultra of development. "There has never been a people so great, so wise, so progressive," thinks every generation, "and surely there will never be any greater. We know all there is." We are told of the official in the United States patent office who in 1861 tendered his resignation and went back to his farm, because as he said, all the inventions possible had been made, and there would be from then on no need of the patent office. That was before the X-ray, the telephone, the radio, the automobile and a hundred other things now thought indispensible to human existence were even thought of.

Looking backward we consider all who have lived in the ages before us as a pack of savages. Recent discoveries made in Egypt and Central America would indicate that in regard to the past, we have nothing to enlarge our hat bands about. Investigations of the dead languages of these countries would tend to prove that psychological and spiritual facts so new to us that we have no words in the English language to express them were well known to the ancients and were expressable in their language. Astronomical calculations are found to be recorded with more accuracy in Egyptian records of six thousand years ago that can be made with the most precise instruments of today. In politics also we are not supreme, the Spanish invaders of Peru found a civilization, higher in many respects than any in Europe at that or even in the present time. Under the Incas of Peru a true socialism existed. Every one worked for a living and there was no poverty.

Considering these facts it would appear that not only can great progress be made in the future, but that this can be aided by the study of the past.

THE ROAD TO REASON

WE read with interest last week an account of an annual event on the campus of the University of California at which students of the various nationalities attending the university met together for a dinner under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. There were citizens of 22 foreign nations present, and a truly international program was enjoyed. This is, we believe, on a small scale, what the world must learn as a whole if there is to be true world peace.

We are told of a story of Charles Lamb, the famous English essayist. Lamb was in company with some other gentlemen, when the name of another man was spoken. "I hate that man," said Lamb. "Why I did not know that you even knew him," said one of his friends. "No I don't know him," replied Lamb, "If I knew him I could not hate him."

The same is true of nations and individuals. We can hate another nation while we know it only through reports of court intreague and national policies. But given an intimate knowledge of the people; to know them at their firesides, at their work; to know their traditions, superstitions and customs—these things preclude all feelings of hatred. So long as the nation is considered as a personification and is considered as a whole, feelings of anger or resentment may develop into hatred, but when it is known as an aggregation of people, people not differing from ourselves in any material point, then there comes an understanding which when it develops throughout the nations, will end all wars.

It has been said that a gentleman is the same the world over, it is only the scrubs that differ. The same is true of the people. The people, the workers, the main stay of the nation are the same in any country. It is the self-seeking politicians, the junkers, war lords and money grabbers who differ. These differ not in quality, being the same despicable crew wherever found, but in aims only, each seeking for himself at the expense of the people. When the people of the nations learn to know the people of other nations, these war profiteers will find that they have lost their power to hold up the citizen of another country as an orge, and a monster, threatening the destiny of the world. They will learn that the only ones to be feared are those who profit by war either in this country or across the sea.

OUR HIGHWAY NEED

IN passing Mountain View and Sunnyvale recently, our attention was called to the artistic signs erected at each town. These electric signs are truly an asset to the town and are a big convenience to the visitor looking for the town. How fine it would be, we thought if Redwood City had an electric sign on the highway at each end of town. Here we have practically no way of informing the motorist that he is in Redwood City, and many go through our city without knowing that they have ever been here. Two good signs would be an asset to Redwood City, and a good advertising feature.

How She Knew

The fond husband was dressed and waiting for his wife. He stopped pacing back and forth long enough to inquire: "Plenty of time? And just how do you know we have plenty of time?" His wife calmly applied the powder and answered: "Of course we have. As to how I know, that's simple. You haven't started to swear yet. have you?"

Peculiar Division

Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings may be perfected definition as well as praise. For example, there is the case of the teacher who, at the close of the reading lesson, was questioning her class on the subject matter thereof. "What is an oyster?" she asked. "Please, miss," replied the bright boy of the class, "it's half a fish and half a nut."

MOVIES

Star of "Lights of Old Broadway" Says Many People of That Period Still Alive

The age of chivalry, and even the Roman and Greek eras, are fairly easy for the technical directors of motion pictures for the simple reason that the technician is guided entirely by historical records, paintings and manuscripts which have been handed down from those times.

If he makes a mistake there are few who can contradict him because all scholars of these periods depend more or less on the same sources for their information.

The early seventies, the period in which is laid "Lights of Old Broadway," Marion Davies' initial Cosmopolitan production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, directed by Monta Bell and soon coming to the Sequoia Theatre, next Wednesday and Thursday, December 9-10, is one of the most difficult for the film technical director.

Miss Davies hit on a novel method of overcoming the difficulties which beset the making of this picture by obtaining the services of men and women who resided in New York at that time and who participated in the history-making events of the seventies.

"It was particularly difficult to be technically correct in the making of this picture," says Mis Davies, "from the very fact that we have with us today thousands of survivors of that period, thousands of people who participated in the stirring events which were contained in the story of 'Lights of Old Broadway.'

"We know these people would be highly critical of the costumes, customs, furniture, architecture and historical data depicted by the film. To overcome these difficulties we secured the services of men who were a part of that age and who take pride in having been a part of it.

"With their assistance we have given as correct a history as possible though we found many minor details on which no two could agree just as few eye-witnesses of an event cannot relate its details correctly an hour after its occurrence. Among those who have been of great help is Joseph Hazelton, veteran actor and eye-witness of the murder of President Lincoln. Bille De Vaull, old-time actor, is another and Frank Currier, who plays a stirring role in the film, was of great assistance."

"The Lights of Old Broadway" is Carey Wilson's screen version of Laurence Eyre's stage success, "The Merry Wives of Gotham." Conrad Nagel is the hero.

SATIRE OF WEST COSTS FORTUNE

A few slapstick tumblers—buckets of paste—location on any street or in any park—a chase—makeshift studio sets—a few day's work—

That was the comedy of yesteryear. Hundreds of actors and actresses—tons of props—location hundreds of miles from Hollywood—special trains—thousands of animals—months of activity—staggering costs —

That's the comedy of today.

With feature-length comedies costing as much or more than the average dramatic production and competition the keenest in the history of the industry, the picturization of a 1925 side-splitter involves staggering expense, a fact vividly illustrated by Buster Keaton's latest vehicle, "Go West" coming to the Sequoia Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, December 7 and 8, which Joseph M. Schenck produced for Metro-Goldwyn Mayer.

The frozen-faced comedian's satire on the great open spaces is the biggest picture he ever has made. Scores of single sequences in the production required a greater outlay of money than the entire cost of comedies that Buster appeared in several years ago. Weeks were spent in mapping out "Go West" and months were required for production.

Location hunters scoured the southwest for a suitable ranch for some of the big scenes, and when a site in Arizona, 60 miles from the nearest railroad, finally was selected, studio carpenters found it necessary to construct a huge bunk house and other buildings to provide accommodations for the troupe and for "atmosphere" in the picture.

Five thousand head of cattle were recruited from various Texas ranches, shipped to Kingman, Arizona, by special train, and then driven over land to location. Scores of cowboys were employed to handle the steers and take part in the comedy.

No one ranch could supply al the 5,000 steers, and the probem was solved by pooling the herds of several Texas properties. The hay bill alone amounted to several thousand dollars.

Supplies for the Keaton troupe of 60 that went to Arizona from Hollywood and for the hundreds of desert residents who were hired, had to be carried by pack train from Kingman to the desert ranch every few days.

When the desert scenes were finished the steers again were loaded aboard a special stock train and brought to the Hollywood studios for the final sequences. Then they were shipped back to Texas by special train and redistributed among their owners by the small army of cowboys. Transportation figured as one of the largest items on the cost sheets of "Go West."

A "fortune for a laugh" has come true in the movies.

Motor Vehicle Department Tells of License Plate Procedure

The Division of Motor Vehicles has made public the complete schedule of fees to govern the renewal of motor vehicle licenses for 1926. Except for electric motor vehicles the schedules are exactly the same as those employed last year.

For the ordinary passenger automobile the flat fee of $3 will be all that will be required.

Trucks, delivery vehicles, taxicabs and all other cars designed, used or maintained principally for the transportation of passengers for hire or for the transportation of property will be subject to the flat fee of $3 and will in addition be subject to fees based on weight and kind o ftires.

The following weight schedules will prevail for commercial vehicles equipped with pneumatic tires, unladen and ready for service:

Under 3,000 pounds............ $ 5
Weighing 3,000 and under 6,00 10
Weighing 6,000 lbs and under 10000 $15.00; weighing 10,000 pounds and over $20.

Commercial vehicles equipped wholly or in part with solid tires unladen and ready for service will be subject to the following weight schedules:

Weighing under 3,00 pounds, $10; weighing 3,000 pounds and under 6,000 pounds. $20; weighing 6,000 pounds and under 10,000, $30; weighing 10,000 pounds and over $40.

Electric motor vehicles, unladen and equipped for service and with either solid or commercial tires will, in addition to the flat fee of $3 be subject to weight fees as follows:

Weighing under 6,00 pounds $40; weighing 6,000 pounds and under 10,000 pounds $60; weighing 10,000 pounds and over, $80.

Vehicles weighing less than 3,000 pounds, equipped with cushion tires shall be subject to weight fees charged for pneumatic tired vehicles weighing more than 3,000 pounds will pay solid tire rates.

The white certificate of registration is required with the renewal fee. The certificate of ownership is not required except in case of transfer.

Do not send your pink certificate of ownership to the Division of Motor Vehicles at Sacramento when applying for your license plates for 1926. Information from Sacramento this week is that this will not be necessary as the law has been changed.

To secure new plates take your white certificate of registration from your car and mail it with a check, money order or bank draft for the amount of your fee to Sacramento. The plates will be mailed to you about January 1. Be sure that your name and address is on the certificate.

Keep your pink certificate in a safe place. It is your title to your car. the State requires it only in case of transfer.

Highly Imaginary

The "Land of Cockaigne", was an imaginary land of idleness and plenty in which the houses were roofed with cake, the rivers ran with wine and roasted fowl offered themselves to be eaten. The name was applied in derision to both London and Paris following the writing of a satirical poem entitled "The Land of Cockaigne" about 1300.

Longest Telephone Cable Has Been Completed

The New York-Chicago Telephone Cable, the longest telephone cable in the world, has now been placed in service by the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. The cable, considered as a unit, leaves New York to the west via Morristown and Allentown over the mountains of Northern New Jersey to Reading, Pa., thence west through Central Pennsylvania to Harrisburg and south to Shippensburg. From Shippensburg the cable is routed to Pittsburg, thence to Cleveland, and from there it passes through Ohio, Indiana and into Illinois to Chicago. Twelve years ago, this cable was a recognized necessity, but was considered almost a dream. Now it is a reality.

J. D. Worthington, manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Company here today issued some interesting facts concerning this great project. The cable is eight hundred and sixty-one miles long and weighs approximately thirty-four million, seven hundred and fifty thousand pounds. There are over twenty-one million pounds of lead, over eleven million pounds of coper and over two milion pounds of paper in the cable. Of the eight hundred and sixty-one miles of cable, seven hundred and seventeen miles are aerial and are supvorted on messenger strand involving a weight of approximately one million five hundred thousand pounds. There are nine thousand five hundred separte lengths of cable which have necessitated a part of the eleven thousand splices made in the cable. The total length of all the wire in this cable is four hundred and forty-seven thousand mies. The cost of the completed cable approximates twenty-five million dollars. Two hundred and fifty telephone conversations and five hundred telegraph messages may pass over this cable simultaneously.

Another "Bull" Durham advertisement by Will Rogers, Ziegfeld Follies and screen star, and leading American humorist. More coming. Watch for them.

If You Want to Look Like This —Don't Smoke

You are going to be disappointed when you look at the face in this Advertisement. It will be such a shock from the type of Faces you always see in Advertisements. They generally get some Guys face to use in a Collar or Underwear Ad that looks like he was just born for that Ad. You never see him in real life or anything that ever looked like him. These "Bull" Durham people conceived the idea of something new. They felt that you were tired looking at such handsome faces in Ads, it was so discouraging to men who looked at them because they knew they could never look like these fellows themselves. So they wanted a homely face that would be an inspiration to other homely men, (because there is a terrible lot of hard looking Birds among you readers). So after looking the World over they picked on me. I dont smoke "Bull" Durham, so the Moral is IF YOU WILL SMOKE IT, YOU WILL NEVER LOOK LIKE ME. I am the horrible example of a man not using it.

Cleaning Without Odor by the F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded bp our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening gasoline smell in your clothes.

Prominent Men Victims of Kindly Deceptions

Shortly before Lord Curzon died, a special copy of the London Daily Graphic was printed with a view to concealing from him the progress of his illness. For this unique copy the bulletin issued by his doctors was withdrawn and another much more favorable substituted.

This kind of deception is not rare. For five days in succession a postal subscriber to a certain morning newspaper received a special copy which, unlike all the others, did not contain a report of the trial of his son, the Vancouver Province says.

The subscriber, who was bedridden, read only this journal and the suppression was made at the request of his family, to hide from him the disgrace his son had brought on his name. He was thus kept in ignorance of the matter up to his death, which took place about six months afterward.

Some years ago a one-copy edition of a magazine was prepared. A young woman sent a travel article to the editor and shortly afterward she was taken ill. As she expressed a keen desire to see her work in print, her parents communicated with the publishers and as a result her article ostensibly appeared in the next issue, though in fact it was in only one copy. This copy was sent to her home, together with a check which was actually met by her father.

An amusing trick was played on Lord Robertson, familiarly known as "Peter." He sent a copy of his poem "Italy," a mediocre production, to his friend Lockhart, asking him to review it or have it reviewed in the Quarterly Review. The great critic was unwilling to comply with this request, because he could not praise it honestly, and did not want to offend "Peter" by slating it. Ultimately, however, he wrote a scathing review of the poem and, having had one copy printed and inserted as if it were part of the Quarterly, caused it to be forwarded to Robertson at Edinburgh. In it occurred the famous epitaph on his lordship:

Here lies the Christian, judge, and poet Peter,
Who broke the laws of God and man and Meter.

Only a short time ago a living man of letters was hoaxed in a similar manner, and it was not until legal proceedings were started against the editor and publishers of the presumably erring organ of public opinion that he discovered the article had not been published in the usual way.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

The numerous friends of Mrs. Frank McEvoy will be pained to learn of her serious illness at her home at Palo Alto. Her chances of recovery are not many. She is a former resident of Menlo Park.

For the benefit of the fund to provide an administration building at the Stanford Home for Convalescent Children, the auxiliary to the home will hold a two-day bazaar, December 8 and 9 in the storeroom adjoining the bank at Menlo Park. Mrs. Franklin P. Nutting is chairman of the committee in charge. Among those actively assisting her are Mrs. Timothy Hopkins, Mrs. A. G. C. Hahn, Mrs. James Graham Sharp, Mrs. H. B. Fisher and Mrs. A. E. Roth. Mrs. De Lancy Lewis is in charge of the beautiful child's crib, which is to be a feature of the sale. It is to be equipped with a floss mattress, fluffy blankets and hand-embroidered linen.

Stanley Kelly, the real estate operator having offices at San Francisco, Burlingame and Capitola, has opened another one in the Bank building on the highway. Mr. Kelly is a live wire in selling realty and a good field in Menlo Park for operations. Mr. Kelly is a son of Mr. J. Kelly, the appraiser for the Hibernia bank.

Joseph A. Donohoe and family have closed their home here and opened their city dwelling for the winter.

James Lane, the famous polo pony trainer from Aptos, has taken over the Pioneer stables from H. Agard, who has been conducting it for some time. Lane formerly leased the stables, conducting a riding school there.

The new bank building will be completed by the first of the year when the Mercantile Trust Company will open it and seek deposits. The company plans to build up a lucrative business.

Within two weeks the first mile of the approach to the Dumbarton bridge on this side of the bay will be completed and it will take only a brief space of time to finish the rest of the road to the Carnduff thoroughfare. Work on the bridge proper is proceeding rapidly. The spans are being put in place so that the completion of the structure is set for March of next year. Hundreds from all parts of the state view the big span almost daily which shows the deep interest taken in the bridge, the completion of which means a big boom for Ravenswood.

The unpleasant publicity given the town by the scrimmage in front of the T. N. T. dance hall last Saturday night is to be regretted for such write does the community no good. The proprietor of the hall is not to blame for the affair, but no doubt his business will suffer by the uncalled for notoriety given the place by the young men of South San Francisco, who came for the purpose of creating a riot. It appears that at a dance given in the hall Wednesday of last week two of the young men from Windy City were ordered out of the hall by the doorkeeper. They went home with feelings of revenge and determined to wreck the place when they could assemble the gang. The gang appeared Saturday evening and began to carry out the wishes of those alleged to have been insulted. The windows of the dance hall were demoished and the door battered down. A general fight ensued with the result that many went away with lacerated heads, badly bruised faces and ears somewhat twisted. The officers did all they could to stop the riot. About twenty of the young hoodlums were arrested by Sheriff McGovern next day at South San Francisco. It is to be hoped there will be no recurrence of this scene again. Menlo Park cannot afford to have such unwelcomed publicity come at this time when the residents are inducing home seekers of a high class to make their abiding places here, in one of God's chosen spots.

It was rumored this week that the new purchasers of the Enten place is to erect forty dwellings that are to be sold when competed. Such houses wil find ready sale as there is always a big demand for cottages here.

Mrs. Maude Downey Cumberson, guardian of the persons and estates of Wiliam Cluff Downey and Elizabeth Downey, minors, had the fifteenth account of her guardianship allowed and settled in the superior curt last Thursday. The account shows that the amount of the estate at the last account was $11,000. Since that time the money has earned the sum of $660 which sum was expended on the minors. At his death the father of the minors, George Downey, left the children $5,500 each. The minors will soon reach their majority. They are grand children of Mrs. William Cluff.

A. G. C. Hahn, the local fire commissioner, has returned from a two month's trip to Australia. He enjoyed the land of the Kangaroo and sees great possibility for that country. Mr. Hahn saw no place in the vast streatches of the big country that equaled Menlo Park in point of scenery, or attractiveness of the landscape. The climate is mild but quite warm in mid summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Weir and family and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Moore closed their Menlo Park homes this week and returned to San Francisco for the winter.

O. M. Carrington will put on his operetta, "Bits O' Blarney" in the school auditorium Thursday evening, December 10. The play will be given under the auspices of the P.-T. A. Admission will be fifty cents, children twenty-five cents. The operetta is well worth attending. The P. T. A. will hold a meeting at the school auditorium Friday December 11 at 2:30 o'cock. A full attendance is urgently requested.

The many friends of James Artino are urging him to erect a building on the lot adjoining his property. He has decided to build a two-story structure and is preparing plans for the building. Mr. Artino is remodeling and cleaning the office in the old building preparatory to the installing a dental outfit. A young dentist from San Francisco has leased the offices for a year.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tallant, widow of the late John D. Tallant, banker and capitaist, who committed suicide by plunging from the deck of the Panama-Pacific liner, Finland, last Saturday, while two days out from Panama to San Francisco, resided here at one time. Her husband owned the C. W. Smith place on Santa Cduz avenue. He sold it to Mr. Smith. Mrs. Tallant was a lovable woman, liked by all who knew her.

John Bordenave, a pioneer resident of Gilroy, passed away at his home there last Wednesday, following a short illness. For many years the deceased was the superintendent of the Catholic cemetery at Gilroy. He was well known and liked by all. He is survived by Mrs. Frank Maloney of Menlo Park, Mrs. Charles Hillrigs of San Francisco, and August Bordenave of San Francisco, and Alfred Bordenave of Los Angeles. The deceased was a native of France. He often visited his daughter here, where he was known and liked.

Next Friday afternoon and evening the National Council of Catholic Women will hold a bazaar in Duff and Doyle hall. In the evening an attractive program will be rendered by the children. Home-made pies, cakes and other dainties will be offered for sale, together with fancy articles of every description, suitable for Christmas presents. Come and secre gifts at reasonable prices. The charming ladies in charge will be glad to greet you.

We cannot frefrain from protesting every time an oak tree is cut down in this locality. They are the true friends of mankind that cannot be replaced. They are the precious gifts of heaven to man and should be preserved. This week the big oaks in the Merrill place are to be cut down by the new owner of the property. The place is being prepared for a race track and of course the big trees were in the way and had to become victims of the woodman's ax. It is a pity that they could not have been saved for future generations to afford shade in the summer time for the weary and protection for the little birds when the north winds blow. The little songsters will lose their homes and will have to seek shelter elsewhere.

Dusel and Siemann, Redwood City realty brokers, have opened a branch office in the Coxin building. From the number of real estate men locating here it would appear that Menlo Park is on the verge of a big boom.

BURLNGAME EDITOR ADDRESSES KIWANIANS

Members of the Redwood City Kiwanis club enjoyed a most entertaining and instructive address at their weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday on the subject of service clubs. The speaker, Sam D. Merk, publisher of the Burlingame Advance. Merk briefly outlined the origin of the service clubs, and showed the excellent work being done by the Kiwanis club, Rotary club and similar organizations. The Burlingame man is the first past president of the Burlingame Rotary club, and is a memper of the state board of education.

The meeting Wednesday was under the chairmanship of Guy Clifton. The birthdays of several of the members were appropriately remembered.

Mrs. C. A. Shurtleff Passes Away

By D. E. O'KEEFE

Closing her eyes in calm serenity, fearing not the impending dissolution, Mrs. Ida West Shurtleff, loved wife of Judge Charles A. Shurtleff, passed from this Vale of Tears to her reward on high, the reward of a well-spent and useful life, late last Sunday night. At her bedside were her grief-stricken husband and her devoted nephew, John Wilson. Her departure from this life was painless. She passed away like one lapsing into a peaceful slumber.

Although ailing intermittingly for the past two years, Mrs. Shurtleff was thought to be enjoying fair health until last Saturday when she suffered a heart attack from which she did not rally, succumbing to the attack about 9 o'clork Sunday evening.

When her demise became known hundreds called at the Shurtleff home in Menlo Oaks to pay their tribute of respect. Telegrams of condolence poured in from all parts of the state to the sorrow-stricken husband, a former Assosiate Justice of the Supreme Court of the state.

The funeral on Wednesday was private and the interment was in Cypress Lawn cemetery.

Mrs. Shurtleff first beheld the light in historic and classic Santa Clara, not far from the old mission, where in days of long ago, the tolling of the mission bells would call the Indian neophytes in prayer and meditation. Here in this beautiful environment Mrs. Shurtleff spent her sweet girlhood. In her early youth she removed to Napa, where she met her future husband, Charles A. Shurtleff, then a budding young lawyer from Shasta. They were married at San Francisco thirty-nine years ago, trodding life's path together in happy companionship ever since and until death parted the loving twain.

Mrs. Shurtleff came from a pioneer family of Santa Clara. Her father, the late Captain John West, at an early date, owned a line of steamers plying from San Francisco to the town of Alviso. From here a great portion of the freight was shipped to San Jose and Santa Clara. The train service in those days was not reliable so that a good portion of materials for the Santa Clara Valley came by water.

Mrs. Shurtleff was a refined and highly accomplished woman, known for her unusual beauty and gentleness of manner. She was charitable to a marked degree but was unostentations in her benefaction, no one knowning what she gave to those in distress, save the ones who received it. She was retiring and shrank from unusual publicity. Mrs. Shurtleff gave generously but quietly and without any display. As a member of the board of directors of the Stanford Home for Convalescent Children, the good woman worked earnestly and efficiently in the noble work in aiding those unfortunate waifs who have no means, but that afforded by the home, in receiving and enjoying God's sunshine and fresh air of the country.

Mrs. Shurtleff was a lover of the beautiful, loved flowers, delighted to dwell among them and commune with the blooms. She had a garden of rare blossoms, many of the plants having been set out and cared for by her fair hands. Her leisure moments were spent with her friends, the flowers. The Shurtleff gardens are perhaps the prettiest in the county, no where elese may such rare and prettier blooms be found.

The untimely death of this puresouled and gentle woman, whose whole life was spent in doing good, is a great loss to the community, the state has suffered a loss and humanity has been bereaved of a splendid worker. Her husband whose burden of sorrow is heavy, loses a devoted helpmate and loving companion, but he may be consoled by the fact that the entire state, which he has so faithfully served as an official, condoles and sympathizes with him in his bereavement.

The late C. N. Fox, who was so closely identified with the history of San Mateo county, was the first notary public appointed in this county. He received the appointment from Governor Downey on April 9th, 1859. This was the beginning of his successful career in his chosen profession, the law. Some time afterwards he was chosen district attorney, at a time when his father was the presiding judge. C. N. Fox later became associate justice of the State Supreme court. Mr. Fox was the attorney for the Spring Valley Water Company in the early day litigations of the concern. Claude Fox, the well-known sporting writer, is a nephew of the first notary public of San Mateo county.

IF EDITORS NEVER LIED

A short time ago a Kentucky editor became tired of being called a liar, so he decided to print one issue containing nothing but the truth We don't know what became of him the following week, or where he went to when he headed ot of Kentucky. Here is what he printed:

"John Beenin, laziest merchant in town, was in Veeville on Monday.

"Tom Coyle, our grocer, has lost most of his trade on account of his store being so musty and dirty.

"Dave Conkey died at his home on Tuesday. The doctor gave it as heart failure, but whiskey killed him.

Silvia Rroades and Jas. Collins were married on Saturday at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. Gordon The bride is an ordinary looking girl, with a walk like a duck and absolutely no knowledge of house-work. The groom is an up-to-date loafer, has been living off his poor old father and mother all his life and isn't worth the powder and lead it would take to blow his head off."

Day and Night Air

There is very little difference in the purity of the air, except that there is less wind at night than in the day, and also less traffic, and therefore less stirring up of the dust and dirt of the streets.

WILL OF LATE JOS BURRIS IS FILLED

Probate of the will of Joseph Burris was asked in a petition filed in the Superior Court Wednesday by W. H. Carlin, who seeks letters testamentary in the estate. Burris died in San Bruno, Nov. 8, 1925.

The estate, which consists of about $3,000, is divided among the following heirs: Viola Burris, widow; Dora McCain, a daughter; Charles, Frank and William Burris, sons; and Eva Hutchinson, Ida Richardson and Mary Wright.

At a railway siding in Michigan, a man asked the froeman if there was a vacancy.

"What can you do?" asked the foreman.

"Anything," replied the man.

"All right," answered the foreman, "take this oil can and oil the points asd crossings up the line."

After an absence of three days the foreman received a telegram which read: "Dear Sir: Arrived at Detroit. Please forward more oil."

PROPERTY ON MAIN STREET SOLD

This week a big sale of real property was made on Main street, near Five Points, which clearly demonstrates that realty in that section of the city is rapidly coming into value. Other large sales were made there last week and other sales are under consideration. Last Tuesday Ben Dema, the well-known business man of this city, sold his parcel of property consisting of eighty feet to Charles Larsen of San Francisco for the sum of $15,000. The sale was consumated by Robert Letts, the local broker. There is a dwelling on the holding which is to be moved and a business building put up in its place by the new owner. The lots facing on Main street in that section are becoming business property, the old dwellings are disappearing and are making way for modern business structures.

TO ERECT MODERN UNDERTAKING PARLOR

The purchase was completed this week by John Layng, local mortuarian of a large lot on Webster street, between Broadway and Marshall streets. Upon his newly acquired property, Layng contemplates the erection of a large modern tile building to be used for his business.

Layng, who is a member of the firm of Layng & Tinney of this city and Palo Alto, is at present located on Broadway. The growth of business on the main street, however, has made the present location undesirable for large funerals.

Pepsin Production

The bureau of animal industry says that pepsin is procured in the following manner: Young pigs are taken and confined for several days, then, after being starved, they are killed and the stomachs removed. The linings of the stomachs are scraped and the pepsin extracted from the mucous membrane by the use of a salt solution. It is then purified and treated in a vacuum.

Richelieu's Five Poets

Cardinal Richelieu, the great French statesman, in his efforts to promote French literature, gathered about him a band of five poets, Corneille, Colletet, Boisrobedt, L'Etoile and Rotrou, who composed tragedies on his plans.

DATE OF TEA SET AWARD POSTPONED

It was announced this week that the handsome tea set to be given away December 1st, would be delayed until the 15th of December, so as to make it possible for the Boy Scouts to realize more funds for their Scout Camp in Memorial Park next summer.

This town is noted for its wholehearted support of its Scouts, and the committee in charge of raising the fund this year, is desirous of giving all a chance to live up to their former record.

The tea set is on display at Mrs. Werder's Floral Shop and tickets to help may be purchased either from Mrs. Werder or from any of the Boy Scouts.

Mrs. Frank Thompson who painted and donated the set to the Scouts asks that the Scouts themselves make a final effort before the 15th to raise the $200 necessary for the expense of carrying on their work of next year.
